

TOP TABLE

If you crave flexibility, these 'Stack' tables from family-run firm Living Divani offer the perfect space-saving solution – and they're easy on the eye too. Store magazines and clutter within the three colourful containers, then rearrange until you find your favourite configuration.

'Stack' coffee tables by Nathan Yong for Living Divani, £1,421 for a set of three, Twentytwentyone \(twentytwentyone.com\)

MAGNETIC FIELD

Organise your cooking space with this genius magnetic 'Magic Wall', which can hold metal objects such as pots and pans or a selection of magnetised accessories, including shelves. Available in a range of panel sizes, with 80 colour options and wood, laminate or terrazzo finishes, from £218 (magicwall.at).

BOX CLEVER

Danish brand Normann Copenhagen has done it again with 'Colour Box', its latest storage system. Available in six shades, the folded-steel units can be wall-mounted or stacked.

'Colour Box' by Normann Copenhagen, £63 each, Design 55 \(design55online.co.uk\)

NEW ORDER

With today's designers addressing the concern for an organised yet stylish workspace, there's absolutely no excuse for hoarding unsightly stationery. Streamline your home office and minimise desk clutter in imaginative ways with our top picks.

From left 'Blocks' beech desk set, £52 for a four-piece set, Kukka \(kukka.co.uk\). 'Book Binder' elastic and wood book organiser by Christoffer Martens for Menu, from £45, Panik-Design \(panik-design.com\). Concrete desk set by Areaware, £54 for a three-piece set, SCP \(scp.co.uk\)

